

Out of HAND

A yearly publication for Gallaudet University staff and faculty

April 1, 1990

Vol. 20, No. 23

As the Angel of Death looks on, Dolly-Bean Filbert, director of the Publish or Perish Department, appears before President Jogging and the Euthanasia Task Force to learn if her success in cutting her department's budget in half will earn her another year of life.

Revolutionary new program will achieve permanent staff reduction

The University is now implementing a revolutionary new concept for achieving a reduction in staff.

"Programs, programs. You want new programs, we got 'em," President Kink Jogging testified at congressional budget hearings last week. "We got GUIDE, we got CELT, we got TAP and DANCE, we got COD and PIECE, we got DPN, we got RHYTHM, too. What we don't got is enough money to support them."

He expressed great pride as he announced the new staff reduction program, noting that during previous administrations there was a critical buildup of deadwood and deadbeats. "What we needed was a way to clear the decks and clean house," he said. "So I asked my PC and Trusty Bores to find a way to make some heads roll."

What they came up with, testified Jogging, is the "ultimate early-out program": Expedited Urgent Termination-Hastening Active Non-Arbitrary Sequential Informational Approach (EUTHANASIA, for the long and short of it).

"This approach targets the biggest deadheads and lets 'em name their own poison," said Jogging. Under closer questioning from a dubious member of Congress, Jogging explained that the options offered to those on their way out are painless, fast-acting, and disguised in the recipient's choice of food or drink. Participants in the EUTHANASIA program will be given a choice of locations for their last meal: either a reception at House 1, or lunch in the Gallaudet Cafeteria. Next-of-kin will receive a $1,000 "thank-you" check, as long as they sign over all life insurance benefits to Gallaudet's Endowment Fund.

"This program is saving us bundles on retirement costs because you don't have to pay pensions to dead people," said Jogging. "My goal was to reduce the staff by 2 percent a year for the next five years, but with this new program, we should be able to do the first 5 percent in only six months."

All employees will be evaluated by a newly-established Euthanasia Task Force during the coming year, said Jogging, and for starters, all dean and director-level personnel will be interviewed this month.

Jogging noted that several other universities have contacted him about EUTHANASIA. "It's the wave of the future now that mandatory retirement is illegal," he said.

Video shows Jogging the real man

When Gallaudet President Kink Jogging appeared on CBS's "60 Minutes" recently, much of the taping that had been done over many months on campus was left on the cutting room floor. The resulting segment, while presenting a positive, upbeat portrait of Jogging the juggernaut, failed to show him as a real person with frailties and foibles just like the rest of us.

Out of Hand was able to obtain, with considerable cash payments to an unnamed CBS staffer with a large habit, the discarded sections of videotape. Those sections have been spliced together to make a 31-1/2-minute-long videotape that Out of Hand is now offering to the viewing public for the unbelievably low, low price of $59.99.

The sensational videotape, titled "Minute by Minute," shows the prez as he really is on a day-to-day basis, engaging in activities such as disciplining Rufus the dog after an accident, falling

Democracy banished from Gallaudet, Totalitarian Communication is in

The hunger for strong leadership that has been increasingly noted in opinion surveys at Gallaudet was more than satisfied last Wednesday afternoon when President Kink Jogging told a raving throng in the Field House that "from this day forth I will pay no further attention to your various points of view, will read no more open letters (only fan mail from now on), and will establish all Gallaudet policy by a new procedure called 'decree.'"

In his address, "The University State," Jogging explained that democracy may work fine in places like the Soviet Union or Romania, where government leaders have no idea what they're getting into, "but you and I know that democratic principles have been a bust at Gallaudet. Why, look what happened when the Faculty Stagnate—by some miracle—agreed on a communication policy of Song-Supported Speech. New open letters came out arguing that you can't sing and talk at the same time. Enough is enough!"

"In fact," Jogging continued, I've decided we will celebrate this period of global democratization by pursuing our own unique path of tyranny, brainwashing, and political imprisonment. Gallaudet can become a flagship for other nations, a Model Demonstration School for Dictatorship (MDSD)."

After describing in gruesome detail the various tortures to be inflicted on dissidents in the "New Gallaudet" (including chain-gang efforts to reassemble the Berlin Wall around the Northwest and Kendall Green campuses), Jogging turned to communication issues. "I'm convinced that communication is a problem only because we persist in trying to figure it out," he asserted. "The best way to solve this problem is to stop analyzing, discussing, and weighing communication methods. We must choose a policy by chance, and then stick to it. The resulting communication philosophy will be called Totalitarian Communication."

At this point, Jogging called Gallaudet's Director of Fussbudgets Grave Harmstrong onto the stage, introducing him by his new title: "His Majesty's Royal Fussbudget." Harmstrong held up a glass containing four straws.

"Each of these equal-length straws has the name of a communication method written on it," Jogging said: "ASL (Adulated Suave Language), SEE (Suspiciously Encoded English), Spewed Speech (SS), and SMA (Special Mystery Approach)."

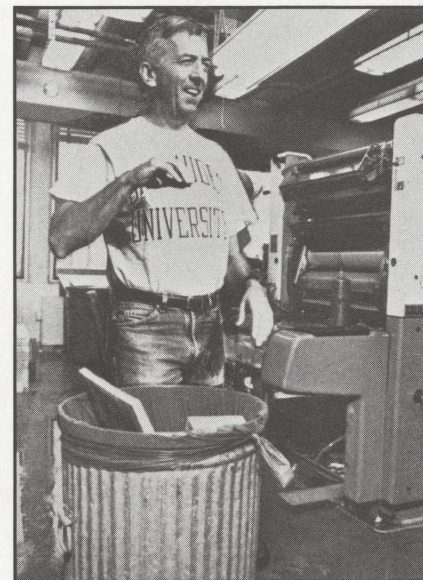

Interim Prime Minister Fan Davidson blindfolded Jogging just long enough for him to draw a straw, which Jogging then read. "Harmstrong! You numbskull!" he exclaimed. "I told you to make this one shorter than the others!"

"Sorry, sire. Forgot to."

"Oh, well. It's too late now. Totalitarian Communication at Gallaudet will consist of Spewed Speech."

The auditorium doors suddenly flew open and a parade of Spewed Speech advocates rushed in, spewing "Happy Days are Here Again!" Leading the parade was Oral Trumpet, creator of Spewed Speech, imitating the brass sounds of a one-man band.

continued on page 4

"Deaf people can do anything!" President Kink Jogging says to CBS reporters as he prepares to empty the House 1 trash before scouring the cans. This segment and others cut from '60 Minutes' can be seen on a new videotape available from Out of Hand.

Deaf Squad members roam campus

The scene is an English classroom on the Gallaudet campus. In the middle of his lecture, a professor, in an act of defiance—or perhaps absent-mindedness—commits an act so shocking that the students can only stare at him in amazement and disbelief: "He actually did it—he moved his lips!" a student signs.

Suddenly, a masked figure, cloaked in black, springs cat-like from the shadows where he has been lurking. Swiftly, he grabs the professor from behind, slips a gag around his mouth, and drags him from the room. He is never heard of again.

Two administrators, thinking they are alone in the depths of the Central Utilities Building, glance about furtively and, seeing no one, begin to talk. Then, without warning, a band of the black-garbed troops drops down from the steam pipes where they have been hiding and watching, and after a brief struggle, the hapless offenders are overcome and dealt with—swiftly and mercilessly. Their names suddenly disappear from the Payroll Department.

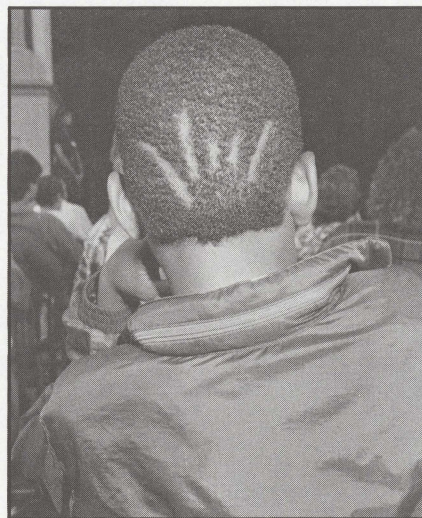

These scenarios are true. They are typical examples of the ruthless mission of the "ASL Ninjas," as they are often called—members of an elite, expertly trained gang operating under the name "Deaf Squad." They are fanatically committed to the mission of keeping Gallaudet ASL-pure, and no measure is too extreme to accomplish their task.

The Deaf Squad was actually conceived during the DPN days, but it did not flourish until 1990, when ASL was proclaimed by students to be the only tolerated language on campus, at the penalty of death or, for the more fortunate, surgical lip binding.

Deaf Squad members and their groupies can most easily be identified by the telltale "I Love You" sign chiseled into their skulls. But as their victims would surely testify—if any could be found—their eyes are everywhere, and they love nothing better than to catch a "lip wagger," as they are disdainfully referred to, in the act. Even their biggest foes, the "PSEs" (Persistently Signing English), a quickly dwindling campus group that stubbornly resists ASL, shudder in fear at the mention of their name.

Deaf Squad members are issuing a warning to all ASL holdouts—accept the Pure Way of communication, or "SEE" (Start Expecting THE END). Remember, the Deaf Squad is watching! Editor's note: So far, Deaf Squad members appear to be unaffected by rose-colored glasses.

Deaf Squad members can be recognized by the distinctive 'I Love You' symbol chiseled into the backs of their heads.

New directory makes relations public

From time to time, newcomers to Kendall Green are embarrassed to discover that they have inadvertently offended a co-worker or acquaintance by making a disparaging remark about another campus employee without realizing that he/she was the first person's (check any of the following):

- ☐ parent ☐ child ☐ sibling
☐ grandparent ☐ cousin
☐ ex-spouse ☐ current spouse

Recognizing this problem and its potential for causing a breakdown in campus morale, or a break in an employee's arm/leg/nose, the Office of Resourceful Personnel plans to issue a new campus directory. The Public Relations Office will oversee the project because its purpose is to make all campus relations public.

All faculty and staff members are, therefore, requested to complete and return the following questionnaire.

Current Name: _____

Former name(s): _____

Current job title: _____

Former job titles: _____

Check categories that apply to you:

- ☐ Alum ☐ undergrad ☐ grad student
 Child of: ☐ alum ☐ deaf parents
☐ Sibling of Gallaudet alum
 Parent of: ☐ Gallaudet student
☐ MSSD student ☐ KDES student

Which of the following members of your immediate family are also Gallaudet employees? (Check all that apply and give names of individuals.)

☐ Mother/father _____

☐ Stepmother/father _____

☐ Grandmother/father _____

☐ Uncle/aunt/cousin _____

☐ Son/Daughter _____

☐ Grandchildren _____

☐ Former husband/wife _____

☐ Current husband/wife _____

☐ Former "significant other" _____

☐ Current "significant other" _____

Please place an asterisk (*) next to the names of those individuals to whom you are currently speaking/signing and a dagger (+) next to those with whom you are no longer communicating.

To help the Public Relations Office understand how public to make your relations, please answer the following:

1. Is your current marriage
☐ happy? ☐ unhappy?
2. Are you currently contemplating
☐ divorce? ☐ an affair? ☐ remarriage?
3. Do the other individuals involved
☐ know? ☐ not know?
☐ care? ☐ not care?

If you do not have any other member of your family working at the University, please check this box ☐ and make an appointment to come in to the Personnel Office for counseling. You will immediately be placed on a mailing list to receive the Job Postings to pass on to relatives or will receive a Gallaudet [G] magnet with which to attach the list to your home refrigerator.

All replies to this questionnaire will be kept as confidential as possible within the Gallaudet grapevine. (Or, to paraphrase that famous quote: "Deaf people can do anything except hear . . . and they are especially effective at communicating as-yet unreleased information.")

As part of its effort to reduce staff, the University has combined its three Robert Johnsons into one new model capable of doing all three jobs.

Kendall carpet makes students ill

The vivid blue and green patterned rug that graces the halls of the main level of Kendall Demonstration Elementary School will soon be replaced as a result of research done by Gallaudet's Center for Cognitive Dissonance.

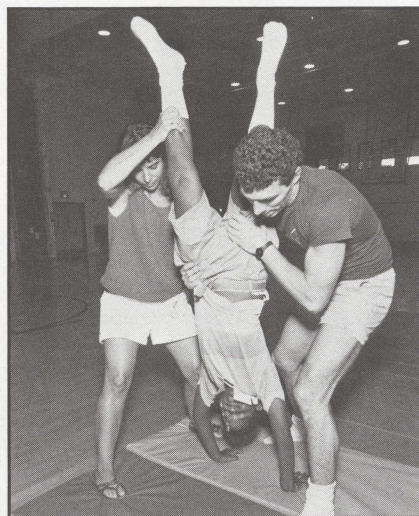

The center's study of Kendall students, completed last month, showed that the Kendall kids exhibit a high degree of balance problems, behavior disorders, and learning disabilities.

"Frankly, we were surprised by the results," said KDES Acting on Principle Hal Uncouth. "We thought the carpet would help give the kids the feeling of roots and wings. But, instead, it's made them dizzy and given them stomach-aches and bruises."

Although the decision has been met with the overwhelming approval, a few students are lamenting the loss of the carpet.

"I like the rug," said 13-year-old Moon Rock Schwartz, whose father was a leader in the '70s "love, peace, and buy granola" movement. "It gets me really high, like, I mean, zoom." His younger sister, Drizzle, agreed: "It's rad, it's awesome, it makes my hearing aid buzz," she said.

In spite of these few minimal protests, the school will soon close for a two-week-long spring break, during which time the plain beige carpet will be installed—"something neutral that everyone can blend in with and feel a part of," Uncouth said.

Staff members demonstrate a new "spare change" technique for increasing tuition, to be practiced on each incoming student.

SOB to be renovated again

The long-awaited re-renovation of the Squalid Osmolian Building (SOB) is about to begin—again. The structure underwent a renaissance in the late 1960s when Committee X (You Are Here) members agreed that the original architecture, which caused the building to be L (as in Loyola)-shaped should be redesigned as an H (as in Harvard)-shaped, increasing its prestige as an institution of higher learning as well as adding a few classrooms.

Now various contractors, including bricklayers, painters, and lightbulb turners, are busy estimating the time, equipment, and level of signing skills necessary to change the building from an H into a D (as in Deaf), while generous donations pour in from campus personnel. Each faculty member has pledged a month's salary from each staff member. In return, staff have pledged faculty members' time during spring and summer breaks to pitch in and help re-do the SOB's foundations.

In the science department, paints are being mixed with liquid nitrogen, anchovy squeezings, and pidgeon doo doo to obtain the exact shade of puce beloved by our many SOB hall-loungers—a color that, covering any other surface, would call for treatment with antibiotics. Meanwhile, Phizzle Plant personnel are working round-the-clock gathering candy wrappers, Budweiser labels, and two-year-old fraternity meeting announcements to wallpaper the classrooms. This decor, known as the dancing eyeball effect, is guaranteed to enhance fingerspelling reception.

For now, plans forge ahead toward moving the M.A. program in English 101 to the Office of Enrollment and allotting the entire second floor of SOB to Beginning ASL.

Although unconfirmed, some departments face being moved to other parts of the campus—not necessarily the Gallaudet campus, or even the other one somewhere out there in Maryland.

To keep current on all SOB movements, campus personnel are advised to get Out of Hand regularly.

Out of HAND

Published each year for the staff and faculty of Gallaudet University by the Publish or Perish Department.

Editor

Picky Wallop

Editorial Staff

Bird Doo

Lindy McMambo

Complicators

Dolly-Bean Filbert

Marvy Grindstone

Grave Harmstrong

Robber Jaundice

Cake Loose

Never More

Art and Photography

Chug Loosely

Groan Immensely

Charming Rubblestone

Spike Surely

Typesetting

Orange Julius

Gallaudet University is an equal opportunity employer/educational institution when it's convenient and does not discriminate on the basis of height, weight, sexual activity, state of residence, or state of mind in admission to its programs or dismissal from its employ.

Gallaudet: The Game

KING'S CASTLE

You lose hearing in one ear and get promoted to vice president. (If already deaf, Advance 2 Spaces).

ASL/ENGLISH SWAMP—Lose your ability to distinguish between the two, and also Four Turns.

Your new secretary does not sign. Lose 5 Turns and one position in your area.

HEARING BYPASS:
This way if hearing.

Hearing loss in previous square is due to ear wax. Ear wax removed—Lose promotion and One Turn.

You're almost there! If you don't know it, fake it.

You go jogging with the president. Move Ahead 4 Spaces.

You find a parking space within ¼ mile of your office. Advance 3 Spaces.

BOOKSTORE BOG—
Lose $10, 2 hours, and 5 Turns.

Your computer breaks down. Call Computer Services. Lose One Turn.

Computer services says there is nothing wrong with your computer. Advance One Space.

Your computer breaks down. Call Computer Services. Lose One Turn.

College Hall ghosts visit your office. Stay where you are.

You park off campus and get mugged. Lose your pocketbook and One Turn.

You learn "I Love You" sign and get elected to U.S. Senate.

HARD OF HEARING LOOP:
This way if hard of hearing.

You identify the sculpture at KDES and win a 3-week tour of campus.

Congratulations! You are promoted to supervisor. Work late tonight and Lose One Turn.

If you don't know ASL, go back to START and begin again.

You are interviewed by Deaf Mosaic. Advance 3 Spaces.

Send something through campus mail. Roll dice to see how many turns to wait...and wait...and wait.

SNACK BAR MORASS—Stand in Line for 4 Turns.

Read the Administrations & Operations Manual. Lose 2 Turns.

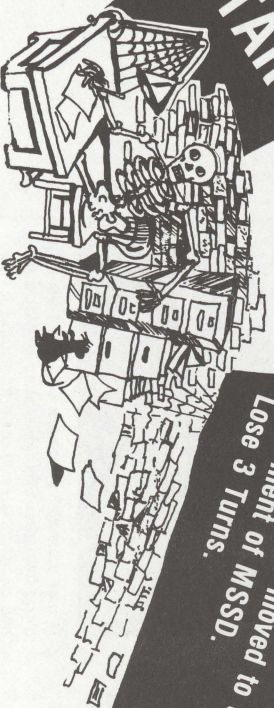

Unidentified Flying Signs. Go Back 3 Spaces.

DEAFNESS TRAIL:
This way if deaf.

PIT OF DESPAIR—base ment of MSSD. Lose 3 Turns.

Your TDD breaks down. Lose One Turn.

START

Do you have what it takes to make it to the top? Play Gallaudet: The Game and see! Roll the dice and follow the road to success—but beware of pitfalls along the way. Watch out for unidentified flying signs, the Bookstore Bog, or the Pit of Despair (otherwise known as the basement of MSSD). If you roll your dice right, you just might be the one to come out on top first. Good luck!

Out of Hand staff members demonstrate the split personalities needed to prepare the publication. From left are Orange Julius, Lindy McMambo, Bird Doo, and Picky Wallop.

Announcements

The administration has asked DAKA (Diet and Keep Alive), the University's food service, to find ways to reduce costs as part of the University-wide austerity program. In compliance with this directive, DAKA is changing its snack bar and cafeteria menus to use meat and produce procured right here on campus. New fare will include Squirrel au Jus, Pigeon a la Newburg, Candied Cicadas, Rodent au Beurre Fondue, Sweet and Sour Dandelion Greens, Brandied Bumblebees, and Cockroach Pandowdy. Members of the Gallaudet community skilled in hunting or gathering any of the above comestibles should contact DAKA at x7689.

Staff and faculty who find it hard to work in 93-degree heat during the months of March, April, and May while waiting for that magical day when the Phizzle Plant Department turns on the chillers can join the Hot 'n' Bothered Whiners Support Group, meeting daily at noon in the air-conditioned Child Development Center, to vent steam and get some sympathy. No fees, but please use deodorant.

The Personnel Office announces an addition to the Gallaudet leave policy called "Bad Perm Day." This new leave, which recognizes the importance of positive self-esteem, may be used in the event of an extraordinarily bad perm (degree of badness to be determined by co-workers). Length of leave requested will depend on the severity of the damage and may range from one day to two weeks (or, in extreme cases, until the perm grows out completely).

The Trusty Bored has approved a new Employee Service Award program that applies to all regular and extended temporary hearing faculty and staff. Beginning April 1, such employees with five or more years of service who have not yet become proficient in sign language (proficiency level to be rated by co-workers and/or students) will be given a gold pin upon their early retirement as an expression of thanks for their years of service. The pin will contain the "I Love You" symbol and the employee's choice of wording: "ASL Now," "I Gave at the Office," or "Touch Finish."

Gallaudet University soon will become the first organization in the world to reimburse its employees for tire and wheel damage caused by potholes hit while driving to and from work. Starting April 31, employees may submit receipts from tire and wheel repairs to the Road Hazards Review Board. The board will review each case to verify that damages were actually sustained on D.C. roads within a 1/2-mile radius of the campus during travel to or from work. If eligible, employees will receive a refund by mail.

4 Out of Hand

The Gallaudet Breakout is offering a new aerobics course for employees who suffer from claustrophobia. In "Over-the-Wall Aerobics," employees will gain cardiovascular fitness and improve muscle tone while learning to scale the entrance gates on Brentwood Parkway and West Virginia Avenue, both of which are closed between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. to keep crime within the walls of Gallaudet. Organizers expect work productivity at MSSD, CUB, and KDES to increase markedly when employees feel confident that they can scale the wall to freedom if needed.

New policy says no a/c, no heat

Employees and students at Gallaudet will soon find their work and class spaces more or less comfortable due to the University's newly adopted NACOH policy—No Air Conditioning Or Heat.

"For years, we've been trying to equalize temperatures across the campus," said Inearnest Sprogs, director of the Phizzle Plant Department, "We've spent zillions of hours responding to complaints from people who swear that they're roasting alive while others claim they're developing frostbite."

With NACOH, or Policy # + -100°, the University will achieve temperature equilibrium while also saving money through reduced fuel costs. Staff who previously maintained the massive heating and air conditioning systems will be re-trained as law enforcement officers. They will stroll the grounds as members of the Temp Squad, issuing tickets to anyone using a space heater, window air conditioner, or fan.

Sprogs stressed that NACOH was not developed in isolation. "We held forums; we sent out surveys; and in no building could we find a consensus of desired temperature," he said. "After studying the NACOH-type systems used in India and Kenya, we decided that NACOH was the way to go."

New glasses improve communication

continued from page 1

At this point, students, faculty, and staff rose en masse and in one colossal, coordinated movement carried Trumpet and all the Spewed Speech advocates out of the Field House.

Once his audience was seated again, Jogging said, "All right, let's forget that little episode and start over."

Blindfolded, Jogging drew another straw, then read the result: "This time I decree that Totalitarian Communication at Gallaudet will consist of ASL—Adulated Suave Language."

Joyful hoots and waving hands filled the air over a large area of the student body and over a small cluster of faculty from the Department of Linguini and Interrupting (of the Dawg House) and Communicable Signs (of Scandal Hall). Gilled Beastman, Barnyard Bragg, and Clod-in Valley leaped onstage and began leading an ASL rendering of "God Bless America."

All at once, the auditorium lights went out and the sprinkler system came on. Campus police quickly arrested a group of faculty members playing with a cigarette lighter around a fuse box, but by the time the house lights were back on, everyone was soaking wet and Beastman, Bragg, and Valley's hands were tied to a flagpole.

"This doesn't seem to be working," Jogging said, water dripping from his nose. "Let me try again." He drew another straw and read the result: "I decree that henceforth Totalitarian Communication at Gallaudet will consist of SEE—Suspiciously Encoded English."

A large mass of faculty members clapped their hands, pounded each other on their backs, and yelled "Huzza! Hail to the Chief!" Then, in an apparent effort to get away while the getting was good, they saluted Jogging, left their seats, and ran frenziedly for the exits, little suspecting that a group of student leaders had blockaded the doors with buses and deflated the tires. Unable to stop their momentum, the faculty members piled into unconscious heaps beneath the exit signs.

Looking grim and beleaguered, Jogging waved off the blindfold and reached hurriedly for the last straw. As he studied the straw carefully, the faculty members revived and staggered back to their seats. Everyone stared at Jogging with grim anticipation.

"This is the last straw," Jogging said. "Accordingly, you will find the SMA—Special Mystery Approach—taped to the underside of your seats. I hereby decree that whatever you find there will constitute Totalitarian Communication at Gallaudet."

Everyone reached under his or her seat and held up a cardboard-rimmed pair of rose-colored glasses. Although confused at first, everyone—including Jogging—put the glasses on and began to see things differently.

Gilled Beastman jumped onstage and signed in ASL, "Wow, I can't explain this, but I think Kink just solved a big problem. Suddenly, I feel good about even those of you who can't sign. I don't understand you any better, but that doesn't seem important, somehow."

"Hey!" interrupted a faculty member, using SEE. "Let's get Oral Trumpet back in here and have a party!"

The buses were moved and the Spewed Speech crowd was brought back into the Field House to general rejoicing.

Later, after much partying, it was decided by all that Jogging was the greatest, wisest, and most beloved dictator of all time. Getting wind of this, Jogging announced yet another decree: During the next University Week, he would be offered a crown.

Classified Ads

CLASSIFIED ADS are printed free as a service to Gallaudet faculty and staff, not for students, friends, families, business partners, or other assorted deadbeats (who, if they must advertise, can pay the editor $10 under the table). Ads may run for a maximum of two weeks if requested, and if it hasn't sold by then, FORGET IT JACK, NO ONE WANTS YOUR JUNK. The deadline for submitting advertisements is 10—read it—10 days before the desired publication; that means don't call on Wednesday and ask if your ad will come out next Monday—it won't! If you still want to advertise, don't call, just send your ad to Out of Hand and hope we're not in a bad mood.

FOR SALE: IBM super 8 mm dual disk Apple-biting 2001K Royal Alpha Numero Uno PC w/MS-200 96MFUX hard disk hyper drive and driver; all software inc. word slaughtering, porno graphics, cereal rat, image emulator, parallel bars, relocation device; mouse ran away but can be adapted for ram; compatible w/anyone computer literate or who has good imagination; asking megabucks or $3995/BO. Call 799-8844 (TDD).

WANTED: Volunteer fundraisers to conduct bake sale, car wash, etc. to raise money needed to enclose outdoor plumbing at KDES near W. Va. Ave. Call KDES Community Relations Office.

FOR SALE: Communication barometer w/spec. calibration for determining communication mode of the week: ASL, PSE, SEE, SEE II, SSE, EST, ESP, RAP, SKA, ARF, $25/BO. Call x8001 (W/TPP) days.

WANTED: Live-in computer nerd, non-smoking, no pimples but can wear belt high, willing to jump through hoops during computer freeze-up in return for corner of campus office w/pillow, blanket, snacks. Start immediately. Call x9998 (V/TDD).

WANTED: Additional members for newly-formed 12-step support group on campus, Big Butts Anonymous (BBA), for men and women struggling to get into last year's summer clothes. All calls confidential, x8889.

Job Openings

"I just washed my hands and can't do a thing with them!" thinks Staring Wood as she demonstrates appropriate dress for Kendall teachers.